Competent and creative

Take advantage of brand new ideas with old-school service. As our clients and markets have evolved, so has MATRIX. We're not fazed by tough projects, emerging technologies, tight deadlines, or distributed teams. We are committed to hard work and having fun along the way.

A wealth of talent

MATRIX digs deep to uncover the IT experts and business pros who keep your operations running up to speed. Core delivery options are contract, contract-to-hire, and direct hire. Tenured account teams can also design and deploy MSP and SOW engagements and deliver on-demand recruiting.

Aptitude for agility

We assess, train, and coach organizations (including our own!) on adopting and optimizing agile methodologies and DevOps best practices. MATRIX helps a who's who of global firms define and refine their strategies to increase productivity and profitability.

A typical agile consulting engagement includes three phases:

1. Discovery — assess current practices and culture to design a transformation roadmap
2. Training — upskill your producers' and leaders' abilities with customized sessions
3. Coaching — elevate team performance on lean, agile, and DevOps principles and practices

Guided by principle and driven by performance

What's behind our 9.9 customer satisfaction score? 37 years. 40,000 placements. 1,500 consulting engagements. And an unwavering commitment to doing the right thing. Here's what our longtime clients tell us they value about working with MATRIX:
