

— OWNERS

Procore is for owners.

When you connect everyone on one platform, it's easy to take control of your construction projects— with visibility into every step of the process. Get access to critical project information and equip your team with crucial insights and competitive efficiencies.

“The return on investment math is simple—even a tiny fraction of savings on one bid would pay for the platform. Multiply that by a few hundred projects per year, portfolio-wide, and it’s clear that the decision to bring on this platform was an easy one.”

DAN KINDBERGH
EVP OF US OPERATIONS,
BROOKFIELD PROPERTIES

Own your data.

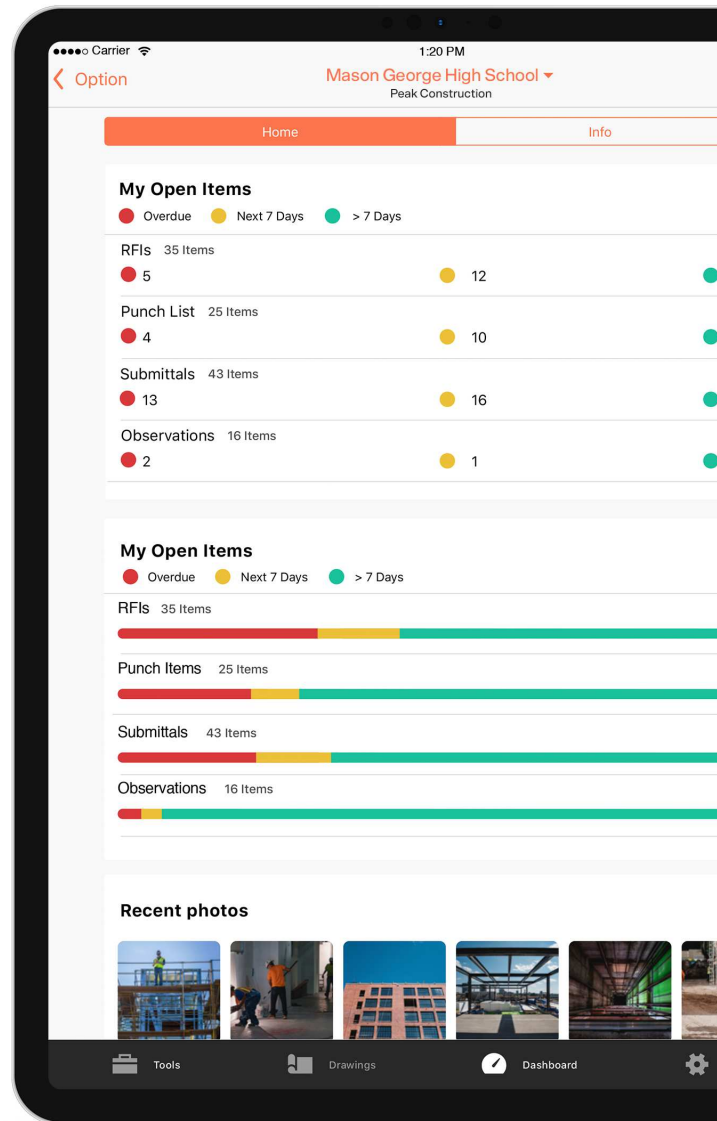

Connect all your apps and stay connected to the actionable insights you need to make smart management decisions— all while maintaining the highest standards of data security.

Standardize across projects.

Align best practices and centralize workflows across each project. Learn from each build by identifying how optimizing consistent quality helps improve asset value.

Mitigate risk.

Our platform helps protect yourself against surprise costs, schedule delays, and any potential disputes with real-time updates and unlimited access to historical information.

— YOU'RE IN GOOD COMPANY

You own the portfolio. You should own the process.

Procore was built to provide solutions to the challenges unique to your business.

Manage what matters.

Gain control over the lifecycle of your project with actionable insights into project status and financials.

- + Access to precisely what was built, from any device
- + Increase collaboration and accountability
- + Track cost updates and project statuses in real time
- + Understand the status of every contractor working in the field

Enforce your standards.

Establish scalable and centralized workflows across all your projects.

- + Connect all your applications and data with our open marketplace
- + Collect the same information from vendors on every project
- + Report on budget and change order information
- + Manage a consistent closeout, inspection, and punch process

Stay ahead of risk.

Protect yourself against surprise costs, schedule delays, and vendor disputes with purpose-built software for owners.

- + Verify approval workflows for any cost or change order
- + Update capital plans with real-time budget and project cost information.
- + Minimize rework and speed up the closeout process.
- + Capture the full audit trail and see who did what, when.

